

The judges have spoken...

The panel included head judges Tania Rodger (Wētā Workshop CEO) and Gabe Davidson (WCF founder), alongside Lucy Corry (award-winning journalist and cook) and Kalliana Kong (creator of Wellingnoms).

Taking the title of Supreme Winner is Emily's Honeycomb bar!

Gabe Davidson says the bar's flavours, including lemon zest, make it pop. "Straight away, you taste the zing of the lemon, which is nicely followed by the more subtle aftertaste of the honey; the bright flavours contrast nicely with the milk chocolate."

The hand-drawn, vintage-style illustration, impressed Tania Rodger. "There is the strong central image of the honeybee, but also the use of subtle soft colours in the flowers and foliage that matches the bars' flavour."
